

Introductory Program to Spanish Law for Foreign Students

Dra. Immaculada Barral
Coordinator

Class of 2014-2015

Each year, University of Barcelona's School of Law receives a large number of foreign exchange students in its International Program who are usually accompanied by an interest to learn Spanish law. This desire to learn Spanish law, however, is sometimes complicated because many of the classes offered by the University rely on previous training, which the foreign students, by definition, do not have.

Therefore, with the intention to offer to foreign students a curriculum of study both formative and useful, that permits a basic but structured understanding of Spanish law to these students with law experience, but without an understanding of Spanish law materials, the School of Law will offer the 11th edition of its Introduction to Spanish Law course for the next academic year 2014-2015, which will issue an official certification from the School of Law.

1. Structure:

The program consists of two parts:

► Part I: required (21 credits)

This first part consists of 21 credits; it offers students four introductory classes to Spanish law:

- Introduction to Spanish private law (6 cr. ECTS)
- Introduction to Spanish public law (6 cr. ECTS)
- Introduction to procedural law (6 cr. ECTS)
- Contemporary political, social and economic history of Spain (3 ECTS)

Completion of Part I allows students to obtain the Introduction to Spanish Law Diploma.

► Part II (optional): Nine credits of elective subjects

This part contains no required classes. The student can choose between a group of classes offered within the program. In the second part, the maximum number of credits one can take is nine because 30 credits is the maximum that a student can take in one semester.

Suggested classes:

- European Union: political institutions (6 cr. ECTS) (For students from universities outside the EU)
- Comparative private law (3 cr. ECTS)
- Comparative European constitutional law (3 cr. ECTS)
- Environmental law (6 cr.)
- State and Confessions (3 cr.)

Completion of Part II (nine credits) allows the student to obtain the Advanced Introduction to Spanish Law Diploma (only if Part I has also been completed).

2. Language of the classes

The classes will be taught in Spanish. It is recommended that students have a good understanding of the language.

3. How does one apply to the program?

A student who desires to apply to this Program should send the completed application to the following e-mails address: internacionals.dret@ub.edu
